Hi Mark-

Yes as you note, EPA issued a pre-publication version of the final rule several weeks ago and it has yet to be published in the Federal Register. Once it leaves my office I am out of the process that gets it to publication, I have been told to anticipate publication in the next few weeks. Sorry I can't provide more info but will add you to EPA's notification list so that you receive an email once the rule is published in the FR.

Erik, the Administrator signed the final rule on July 27, yet the rule has not appeared in the Federal Register, 40 days after signature, and it is not scheduled for publication for September 7. When will it appear? Is it under reconsideration?
